

HOME HAPPENINGS.

Council meets in regular session next Monday night.

Concrete yard walks are being laid around the residence of I. S. Reed.

The Stithery Club held an enjoyable picnic last Friday in Idora park.

Next Tuesday being the Glorious Fourth the Dispatch office will be closed all day.

Home-grown raspberries appeared in the local market the first of this week. The crop promises to be large.

The Dispatch desires all the local news items possible but wants them while they possess value as news.

Our friends will confer a favor by giving the Dispatch any item of local interest that may come to their notice.

Union services will be held in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening. Rev. Robert E. Pugh will preach.

The Fourth of July is coming along apace. There will be nothing doing in this old town, or any of the nearby towns.

Wheat harvest will be on next week. The crop in this locality will be much larger than was hoped for early in the season.

Children's day will be observed in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

A son was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John Owens of Youngstown. Mrs. Owens before marriage was Miss Tot Arnold of Canfield.

Rambler roses are especially pretty this year. Usually the winters are too severe for the ramblers but last winter was mild and the stalks did not freeze back.

The Men's Club invites you to its open meeting at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, June 30, to hear the Physio-Harmonic Art Club of Warren. No charge and no collection.

Do you remember when the old red grist mill stood on the west side of Broad street, just north of the Monasmith residence, and furnished most of the flour consumed in this locality?

One of W. J. Dickson's lively riffs was considerably damaged last Saturday night when in the inky darkness the horse got off the road and the buggy overturned and rolled down an embankment.

Soaking rains came last Saturday and Sunday morning and evening and there is more moisture in the ground just now than for several weeks. All kinds of vegetation shows great benefit from the rain.

Quite a number of Canfield Masons attended the district Masonic picnic held Tuesday in Idora park. Several thousand members of the order and their families were on the grounds during the day and evening.

No action having been taken by the village council the coming Fourth of July can be made just as noisy as in past years. It is likely, however, that an ordinance will be passed shortly to make future Fourth's "safe and sane."

Rev. G. V. Reichel of Columbus, former pastor of the Canfield Presbyterian church, recently spoke in the Cuyahoga Falls M. E. Church in the interest of the American Civic Union. The aims of the union are to suppress vice, cigarettes, intemperance, immoral books, gambling, immoral plays and the white slave traffic.

Last Saturday night or Sunday morning some one entered Neff Bro's grocery store and secured between $20 and $25 in change kept in a box back of the cigar case. Entrance to the building was gained through the furnace cellar. This is the third store in the village to be burglarized within a few weeks. At The Manchester Co. hardware store plunder valued at $150 was carried off. While no clue has been secured it is generally believed that all the jobs were done by local talent.

H. W. Corli of the Canfield Transfer Co. has invented a non-skidding, non-tire-cutting device for auto-trucks that he believes will do away entirely with troublesome chains and make a great saving in tire expense. The device consists of three pieces of steel so fashioned as to encircle the wheel rounded pieces of the mechanism crossing the tire to prevent skidding. It is easily and quickly adjusted and the expense is very little more than the ordinary chains which are frequently troublesome. While the device is especially intended for trucks having solid tires Mr. Corli believes that it can be made to work equally satisfactorily on pneumatic tires. If the invention proves to be as valuable as it is thought it will a company will be organized to manufacture and place it on the market.

At an adjourned meeting of Council last Saturday night the contract for paving the west side of Broad street was awarded to F. L. Geiger of Warren, his bid, $8,107.35, being the lowest. The contract for the storm sewer in connection with the paving was awarded to C. J. Chinnock of Warren whose bid was $415.98. The sewer job is to be completed by July 20 and the paving by Sept. 1. Both contractors were present at the meeting and said they would have the work completed much before the time specified. Bessemer brick will be used in the paving. Mr. Chinnock expressed his displeasure over not securing both contracts. When the bids were first gone over it was found that his combined bids for paving and sewer were the lowest, although he was not low bidder for either paving or sewer. Because he was lower on the combined bids it was believed he would get the entire job and as much was intimated to him, although no official action had been taken by council. But under the law the bids could not be combined and the work was awarded as stated. Mr. Chinnock left the council chamber declaring that he would see whether he was to be fooled here and given only part of the work. As council had taken no official action on any of the bids until Saturday night no serious legal complications are contemplated.

New apple pie is now on the menu.

The band gave a delightful concert in the park last Saturday night.

A daughter was born this week to Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Rowe of Ravenna, formerly of Canfield.

There will be no delivery of rural mail next Tuesday, July 4th being one of the holidays the postoffice department does not require rural carriers to make their usual rounds.

Years ago it was believed that most of the timber in this section had been cut but despite this fact many logs are still hauled to local mills and much lumber is shipped to other localities.

C. J. Chinnock of Warren, who was awarded the contract to construct the storm water sewer for the Broad street paving, arrived here Wednesday and has started work on the contract.

Rain last Saturday night interfered with the festival held in the park by young people of the Christian church, it being necessary to transfer their refreshments to town hall. The receipts amounted to $16.

Austin R. Goldner of North Jackson and Miss Jean Foshacht of Canfield called at the Zion Reformed parsonage on North Broad street Thursday afternoon and were united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Schaefer. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Lillian Foshacht of this place and the groom is well and favorably known in North Jackson where the happy couple will reside. They have the best wishes of many friends.

Many Canfield people will remember their former townsman, Gen. Hine, who is mentioned in the following dispatch sent out from New York: General Edwin W. Hine of Orange, N. J. who was in the hay and grain business 25 years ago, has received an anonymous letter enclosing a two-dollar bill and 25 cents in stamps. The writer says the money represents "balance of feed bill." He expresses regret at having kept General Hine waiting so long for the sum.

Tommy Stack, who is employed at the Marquis coal works, was drunk last Saturday night and threatened to kill members of the Swager family to whom he is related by marriage. Mrs. Swager called Marshal Dickson out of bed at midnight to arrest Stack, but Tommy evidently got wise to what was going on and hurried off home. While Marshal Dickson was returning to his residence he found a man, also employed at Marquis, lying drunk on the street and he placed him in the lockup to sober up.

BARELY ESCAPED WITH LIVES

When a Horse and Buggy Plunged Into Mill Creek Park Gorge Last Saturday Night.

Narrow escape with their lives was the experience of Edward E. Massingham of Canfield and his sister, Miss Rachel Massingham, and Harold Cochran of Pittsburgh 1 Mill Creek park last Saturday night when the horse driven by Mr. Massingham plunged 40 feet over an embankment and was killed on the path at umbrella rocks.

Mrs. Massingham had been visiting in Pittsburgh and was accompanied home by Miss Massingham, Harold and Louis Cochran. Mr. Massingham and Grover Foshacht drove in carriages to Idora park Saturday evening to meet and bring them to Canfield. It was about 9:30 when the party left the park hitching shed. Mr. Massingham, his sister and Harold Cochran were in the rig first to leave and were closely followed by the carriage occupied by Mr. Foshacht, Mrs. Massingham and Louis Cochran. The night was very dark and after leaving the electric lights at the entrance to the park hitching ground not even the road could be discerned. The hill leading to the umbrella rocks turn in the road was safely descended but the horse evidently mistook a large rock at the edge of the cliff for the road and turned to the right instead of the left, thus missing the road. Instantly the occupants of the carriage felt themselves falling as the horse plunged through small trees and bushes. The rig was up by the embankment and the occupants thrown out within a few feet of the precipice while the horse and buggy went over. Mr. Massingham retained his presence of mind, and being familiar with the dangerous surroundings called to his companions not to move. He lighted a match and assisted his sister and the boy in getting down the road and safely. All were cut and bruised but not seriously injured. The second rig had just left the hitching grounds when the occupants heard the crash ahead of them which they believed came from two vehicles colliding. They soon reached the scene of the accident and found their friends safe and learned the gravity of the mishap. It was nearly midnight when the party reached Canfield.

As stated the horse fell on the path at umbrella rocks, breaking its neck, with the buggy on top of it. The top and seat of the carriage were torn off and left in the bushes near the brink of the precipice. Mr. Massingham had refused $150 for the horse and the buggy, which is a complete wreck, cost new $85 a few months since. He hopes the park commissioners may see their way clear to reimburse him for the loss he sustained.

The horse and buggy were not removed from the gorge until Monday. Hundreds visited the scene of the accident Sunday and marveled that the occupants of the rig escaped being killed.

Some years ago Mr. Morgan and his wife of Youngstown were hurled over the precipice near the Lanterman bridge when their horse became unmanageable and backed into the gorge. Their little son, in the buggy with them, escaped by jumping. Mr. Massingham's accident occurred only a few rods further west of the bridge.

Business Places Will Close July 4. The following Canfield business places will close all day July 4: Andrews & George, J. R. Taber, John Taber, Silvio Rossetto, M. J. Neff, Canfield Hardware Co., W. I. Geary, Aaron Wiesner, F. A. Morris, H. J. Dickson.

Returns Thanks. Mrs. John Schaal of Calla, who last week had the misfortune to have a runaway accident in Canfield, desires through the Dispatch to return heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in getting her rig in shape so that she could return home.

GABRIEL C. DAVIS DROWNED

Last Sunday While Swimming in Meander Creek Near Ohiotown.

Gabriel C. Davis of Ohiotown was drowned in the Meander creek which runs through his farm, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Davis and his two sons, Roy, who had just returned home from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he has attended college for several years, and Edward after dinner went to a field to look after some stock. This done Mr. Davis suggested that they take a plunge in the Meander nearby. Ed, the youngest son, was first in the water and he swam across the stream which had been considerably swollen by Saturday's rain. The father quickly followed. Roy cannot swim and he remained on the bank. As Mr. Davis swam about the middle of the stream he was suddenly seized with cramps and went down. Ed dove after him but was unable to bring him out as the drowning man came up only once. The two boys quickly gave the alarm and assistance was soon at hand but some time elapsed before the body was recovered. It was then found that he had suffered a violent attack of cramps. The arms were folded and he had sunk on his face, downward on the sand. Mrs. Kidd and Elder, who had been summoned from Mineral Ridge, made every effort to resuscitate the man, but without success.

When the news of the death of Mr. Davis was conveyed to his wife, who has been in poor health for several years, she swooned and became unconscious and for a time it was feared she would not recover. His daughter, Marie, is just recovering from a severe illness, and she, too, was prostrated by the sad news.

Mr. Davis was well and favorably known throughout Trumbull and Mahoning counties. For years he conducted stores in Mineral Ridge, Cornersburg, Girard and Niles. He was a hard worker and a keen business man and acquired much property in the two counties as well as an interest in extensive southern timber lands. Some years since he purchased the J. W. Canfield farm and moved to Canfield so that his children might enjoy the advantages of superior schools. Last summer he sold the farm to Ford McGinnis at a large profit and purchased the Herring farm near Ohiotown to which he moved his family last fall. He had sold his farm in Mineral Ridge and of late had devoted his time to buying and selling real estate. Deceased was 48 years of age.

Mr. Davis was a member of the Methodist church and Foresters at Girard; Anoka Tribe of Red Men and Mineral Ridge lodge of Odd Fellows, and a trustee of the N. E. O. N. C. Besides his immediate family he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: John of Dunsmuir, Cal.; William of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Benjamin of Ohiotown; Henry E. of Niles; Mrs. Anna D. Jones and Mrs. Mary Maags, of Niles.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Mineral Ridge Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and were largely attended. Rev. B. L. George conducted the services. The remains will be taken to Cleveland for cremation.

COOPE-KANOLT.

Miss Edith E. Coope of Youngstown and Dr. Clarence W. Kanolt of Washington, D. C., were united in marriage at noon Wednesday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. J. Beard at the Methodist parsonage in Canfield. The ritual of the Methodist church and ring service were employed. The bride was gowned in a blue tailored suit. The attendants were Jesse and Albert Coope, sister and brother of the bride. Other members of the wedding party, came to Canfield in an automobile, were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coope, parents of the bride, George Coope, a brother, and Charles E. Kanolt of New Jersey, father of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the company returned to the bride's home in Youngstown where an elaborate dinner was served. In the afternoon the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Nova Scotia. On their return they will reside at 3311 Ross Place, Washington, D. C.

The bride is not only popular in Youngstown but in Canfield as well as she was teacher of Greek, Latin and English in the Normal college the past two years and while here made many friends and while here an accomplished gentleman, and since leaving Cleveland two years ago, when he was a member of the faculty in the College for Women, where he first met his bride, he has been assistant physicist in bureau of standards at Washington.

Never Touched Him. "Hay has gone up to $27 a ton." "I don't care, I never did care for shredded wheat biscuit."

She Must Have Been Married. "This is going to hurt you," said the dentist to the lady, "but try and not like a man."

"No, thank you," replied the lady; "how would I look thrashing my feet around and swearing?"

How Could He Tell? "Do you never have the blues?" "I don't know."

"No, I am color blind."

Those Fool Questions. "What in the world are you going to do with that bottle of hair restorer?"

"I am a great sufferer from corns!"

He Was Lucky. "Doctor, my wife has lost her voice!"

"I congratulate you on your good judgment in coming to me. I had a case like that just last week."

"And you can cure her?"

"Nope, I can't do a thing for her."

Mrs. John Duncan of Marquis is suffering from appendicitis. Her husband is employed at the coal works and the family moved to Marquis only two weeks ago from Pennsylvania.

The industrial edition of the Youngstown Vindicator issued Tuesday evening consisted of 72 pages and was not only the largest, but finest newspaper ever printed in Youngstown. It contained a wealth of information of interest to everyone living within many miles of the bustling metropolis.

A special from Akron says: The new Akron-Canton-Youngstown railroad will be ready for operation this fall, according to a statement of one of the officials made today. Nearly $1,500,000 is being spent in constructing the line between Akron and Mogadore. There are rumors to the effect that the New York Central or the Wabash is back of the venture.

At Wednesday's session of the Ohio State Teachers' Association at Cedar Point, Prof. J. H. Dickson of Wooster struck at dancing, from the standpoint of exercise. He asserted dancing really was hardly worth being called an exercise. Speaking on the subject of "Moral Education or a Training for Manhood," Prof. Dickson said: "I do not approve of dancing and wish that young people on their vacations would devote more time to athletic sports, such as swimming and walking."
